THE ROLE OF THE NATION'S IDENTITY COURSES TOWARDS HISTORICAL VALUE OF KARAWANG CITY

LUSIANA RAHMATIANI
ABS-ACEC-21087
This study aims to describe the role of the nation's identity courses in the historical value of karawang city. The fading of the identity of the nation is reflected in the young behavior of the nation such as hedonist, feudal, and individualist nature in various areas of life covering the political, social, economic, and also cultural fields and even touching the realm of ideology. The purpose of this study describes how the role of the nation's identity courses to the historical value of karawang city. The research method uses a qualitative research design with a case study approach. Data collection in this study by conducting observations, interviews, and documentation studies. The results of the study explained that the national identity course became the flagship course at Buana Perjuangan Karawang University and became a forum in reintroducing, reminding, and preserving the value of the local history of the region to students as agents of change in national and state life. The course of national identity leads students back as a young generation to be aware of the insights of the archipelago, the history of karawang city has an important role in the history of the Indonesian nation, namely the historical events of Rengasdengklok and Rawa Gede in Karawang Regency that must be maintained and preserved so that the next generation of the nation does not escape the history of the great Indonesian nation.
The presence of globalization greatly influences the development of the era, marked by technological progress which is the main factor in the fading of the nation’s history which should be preserved and maintained by the future generations of the nation as the value of national identity without neglecting the value of regional history.

Students' ignorance about the historical insight of the city of Karawang is actually one of the foundational elements in maintaining the integrity of the nation's historical values.

The waning of the values of Indonesian identity among students by no longer understanding the importance of the value of the nation's identity in the life of the nation and state.

In connection Mahfud, (2018)

In line with Manuaba, (1999)
The research design used in this study used qualitative research using a case study approach.

With qualitative data we can understand the flow of events chronologically, can judge causation in terms of local people, and can find many useful explanations. Through this approach, it is hoped that researchers can conduct a comprehensive study related to research problems.

Researchers used qualitative research techniques with data collection techniques used in the form of observation, interviews & documentation.
The national identity course is one of the real efforts in fostering a love of the motherland for students. The uniqueness of the national identity course within the University of Buana Perjuangan Karawang is the university’s flagship course related to the campus vision and the history of the Karawang community that should not be forgotten.

The national identity course has an important role in the historical study of the city of Karawang. The role of the national identity course to preserve, remind and re-ground the history of the local area which must be preserved and reinstilled in the minds of students as the young generation of the nation, equipped with archipelago insights and national identity awareness with the fundamentals of national history nationally and in particular regional history. Local people who must remain grounded so as not to be eroded by foreign cultures.

The implementation of lecturing activities in the national identity course is divided into two sessions, namely: The first session, lectures in the classroom. The second session, lecturing outside the classroom (Outing class) or field practice by conducting visits divided into local and national visits. Local visits carry out visits to the historical places of the Karawang city, namely Rengasdengklok and Rawagede, which are important histories recorded in national history and become milestones of the nation’s history.

National visits, namely visiting Lubang Buaya (Pancasila Sakti Monument) and Taman Mini Indonesia Indah (TMII). This election was due to the fact that TMII represented all who became the embryos of the Republic of Indonesia.

The implication of the national identity course can influence students to be motivated to increase awareness of the history of the Karawang area and the history of the nation in re-instilling the insight of the archipelago as a value of national identity.
The national identity course in the university environment, the struggle of Karawang has an important role in preserving regional history and realizing the vision of the Buana Perjuangan Karawang University campus with a National Reputation and Nationality Concept. The national identity course has an important contribution in supporting the goals of the nation and state. As a group of general basic subjects, the national identity course participates in the process of personality development side by side with Pancasila and civic education courses which are related to one another. The national identity course forms students to be aware of regional history and national history as a fundamental insight into the archipelago in maintaining the identity of the Indonesian nation.
Kampus
Universitas Buana Perjuangan Karawang

Local Visiting Activities
National Identity Course